Why Need a Medical Alert System?

Each year, 1 in 3 adults ages 65 and older suffer from a fall. Falls can result in moderate to severe injuries and can increase the risk of early death.

“Although it has been known for decades that falls are not only common and expensive, but preventable, fall-related injuries continue to disrupt the lives of too many older adults, some of whom are homebound or others who are on the go. In the case of a fall, the sooner the person can get up or get help, the better the outcome will be. If a person can’t get up, it is important for them to have something they can count on 24/7 to call for help for them.”

Why Safety Labs PA System?

You want peace of mind, but the problem is that today’s costly medical alert systems do not provide complete security. They don’t answer questions like, “Where is my mother right now?” or “Is my dad alright?” Other systems only act when the alert button is pressed. Anchor provides a continuous ability to monitor the wellbeing of your loved one by sending status updates whenever they’re requested.

“Other Medical Alert systems do provide safety, connectivity and involvement of our family in my dad’s safety as Safety Anchor does.”
